

Program Management

Benefit from our industry-leading capabilities and expertise in fintech and payments.

The Galileo Program Management Solution ensures you'll operate your fintech or payments program with confidence—whether you're just launching or want to offload the hassle of a fintech/payments back office.

If you're new to fintech or payments, Galileo Program Management can help you get up and running fast, avoiding pitfalls that cost time and money. And, once you're operating live, we're available to provide as much or as little ongoing support as you need.

We have tons of experience, a vast network of integrated partners and deep relationships, and we're happy to share them all to accelerate your success.

Operate with the confidence of an experienced pro.

The Galileo Program Management Solution is your conduit to the world of fintech and payments, putting our experience to work for you.

You'll find our deep experience particularly valuable during start up. We'll support you to successfully navigate your sponsoring bank's and payments network's exacting (and often exasperating) rules and standards, which touch almost every part of your program.

We'll also support you in setting up your back office, including authorization and settlement, customer service and IVR, fraud management and dispute resolution—to name just several examples. Or, at your option, we can manage all these functions (and more) on your behalf, as well as support your ongoing card production, fulfillment and packaging design.

If you have a need, Galileo Program Management has a solution.

Make our experienced program management staff part of your team.
